WORK EXPERIENCE

MAY 2014- CURRENT	Software Engineer Lead at BETTERWORKS I am a Software Engineer at BetterWorks . I do full stack web development using Django and Angular. I lead a team of engineers which includes mentoring, code reviews, and pair programming. I have touched all parts of the product, helping rearchitect and rewrite much of the backend, as well as large parts of the frontend. I have also done extensive performance improvements in Python, JavaScript, and SQL.
AUG 2013- MAY 2014	Software Engineer at REDBEACON I was a Software Engineer at Redbeacon (owned by Home Depot). I helped build Redbeacon Experts , a Q&A platform for home improvement questions. I was also the technical lead on a project combining related accounts on Home Depot's backend.
JUN 2010- Current	Co-founder and CEO at LOKO APPS iOS and Android App Developer I started a company after my Freshman year of college called Loko Apps . I program iOS and Android apps using Marmalade SDK in C++. My most recent app is Gravity Evolved . My apps have over 1,400,000 downloads.
JAN 2012- JUL 2013	Junior Software Engineer at SOFTWARE INVENTIONS We were contracted by Google to work on Chrome . I achieved both commiter and OWNER status in the Chromium repository, with over 200 commits, which can be seen here . I wrote the Chrome Extensions documentation server, which generates and serves the documentation at developer.chrome.com/extensions . I also started a project to load the Extensions API bindings lazily, and make them available to all webpages in the future (not just extensions).
